Dear Patron,

BV opens its 23rd season at the Royal Theatre with Aladdin, a new full-length creation that is guaranteed to ignite everyone's imagination. Set to a blend of music including Saint-Saens's Bacchanale, Borodin's Polovtsian Dances and more, expect a stellar score. Four original productions with unique contemporary themes, flair, drama and humour. It is always thrilling to see the BV dancers relish in exploring new roles and developing past repertoire.

BV's Nutcracker, performed with the Victoria Symphony, boasts a distinctive and spirited interpretation. In March, Stravinsky's The Rite of Spring and New Works will showcase the dancers' physicality, technique and musicality, as we break boundaries thanks to high octane choreography. The season will end with a bit of surrealism as we follow Alice to a wonderland filled with unexpected twists, brilliant acting and dancing.

Do join us and fill your heart and soul with joy and light.

Warmest regards,
Paul Destrooper
Artistic/Executive Director
